HIGH AND LOW

Low tonight and high Thursday 25 and 45. High and low temperatures yesterday were 41 and 25.

SCENE NOW COMMON IN ALGIERS

A scene which has become all too common in Algiers is this street view in downtown Algiers. A veiled Moslem woman and her child pick their way through the debris after a plastic bomb explosion. Blast was one of 135 on the day this picture was taken. The rightwing SAO is stepping up its attacks in the hope of blocking cease-fire talks which would lead to Algerian independence.

Powers - With $50,000 Can Live Own Life Now

WASHINGTON (CP)—U-2 spy pilot Francis Gary Powers is free to choose his own life with the aid of some $50,000 in back pay after being vindicated and described by senators as a courageous American.

The final chapter of Powers' high-flying drama over Russia—which led to the collapse of a summit conference—unfolded before the Senate armed services committee Tuesday.

he didn't know precisely what caused his plane to crack up at 68,000 feet near Sverdlovsk, in the heart of Russia.

He had heard a "whump" and could remember "feeling, hearing and just sensing an explosion." There was a slight forward movement to the plane and looking up from his instruments he could see an orange color everywhere.

"I felt that the explosion was external to the aircraft."

Powers, 32, said that when he had landed by parachute he saw another parachute in the sky, not a part of his plane's equipment. At the time, he said he speculated it might be a parachute bringing back part of a fired Russian rocket. The Russians claim a rocket downed the U-2.

Congressman Carl Vinson, Georgia Democrat, told reporters later that intelligence experts believe the craft was hit by a Russian ground-to-air missile.

NO SUICIDE ORDER

Contrary to Soviet charges, Powers—still an employee of the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency—said he had not been ordered to commit suicide through use of a poisoned needle if caught by the Russians on that fateful May 1, 1960. The needle was to be used at his discretion in case of torture or other reason.

Powers said he couldn't use the pilot ejection mechanism provided in the plane.

Canadian Troops Arrive Back Home

HALIFAX (CP)—Twenty-five Canadian soldiers, returning from NATO service in Germany, arrived here with their families today aboard the liner Ryndam.

LATE FLASHES

Canada-U.S. Trade Tariff Cut Announced

OTTAWA (CP)—A Canada-United States agreement on mutual tariff cuts covering some $128,000,000 a year in products traded between the two countries was announced in the Commons today by Finance Minister Fleming.

Aid Offered Power-Short Kootenays

VICTORIA (CP)—Dr. H. L. Keenleyside, chairman of the British Columbia Power Commission, said today the commission would do everything possible to help West Kootenay Power and Light Company restore its service in the Creston area.

Burma May Reject Soviet Aid

RANGOON (Reuters)—The No. 2 man of the revolutionary council that seized power in Burma last Friday, Brig. Aung Gyi, said today the country may have to drop Russian aid pledged for a national theatre and a dam.

Forest Fire Threat To Town

PORT CHARLOTTE, Fla.—(AP)—Weary firefighters were reported today to have confined a wind-fanned fire that for a time threatened this community of 6,000 and a fishing hamlet 10 miles to the west.

British Subject Jailed As Spy

WARSAW (Reuters)—A Polish woman who is a British subject was sentenced today to six years in prison on spy charges following her arrest last September for allegedly possessing military sketches and coded messages about Polish defences.

NAMES IN NEWS

Mac Tells Mr. K. Again "I'll Go"

Prime Minister Macmillan has reiterated to Soviet Premier Khrushchev that he is ready to attend the Geneva disarmament conference starting next week at any time his presence would be "of positive value."

Dr. Frederick Roots, one of Canada's top Arctic scientists, said Tuesday Canada still is on the receiving end from the Russians in acquiring knowledge of their common Arctic frontier.

Dr. Wilder Penfield proposed in Montreal that an organization be set up to arrange for children between French- and English-speaking families to promote bilingualism.

Attorney General Robert Bonner said in Victoria the provincial government has asked Ottawa to exempt native Indians in B.C. from liquor regulations under the Indian Act but the request has been refused so far.

Dinah Shore filed suit Tuesday for a divorce from actor George Montgomery, in Los Angeles.

Former British prime minister Anthony Eden arrived in Boston to undergo a three-day check at New England Baptist Hospital. He was accompanied by his wife.

T. C. Douglas, national New Democratic Party leader, said in Sackville, N.B. Tuesday night he believes the "economic stagnation of Canada" will be the "most discussed" issue in a federal election campaign.

TRIED TO EAT BOSS — FIRED

MUNICH, Germany (AP)—Caesar, a lion, was fired from the movies today for trying to eat his producer and director.

Caesar broke loose Tuesday night during studio shooting for Sinbad the Sailor and gave chase to producer Frank King and director Byron Haskin of Hollywood.

King and Haskin fled via fire escapes. For 20 minutes Caesar walked hungrily about. Finally he jumped through a window into an adjoining room, and workers armed with iron poles got him under control.

The movie company telephoned for a replacement from the Hamburg Zoo that had supplied Caesar.

Seaman Dies In Scuffle

VANCOUVER (CP)—A Seattle seaman was killed by a bullet from his own revolver Tuesday night as he and a homeowner struggled for possession of the weapon.

Police identified the victim as Clayton Thomas Stratton, 40, who was out on $500 bail on an assault charge.

Clayton apparently was forcing his way into a city-centre residence when the sole occupant, Gustave H. Stratton, 50, resisted and began a scuffle, officers said.

Stratton was first taken to hospital for treatment of head lacerations and later to police headquarters for questioning, under police guard.

Police said a second man when he tried to force his way into the house, relic of a bygone era, sandwiched between offices.

GIBSON SAYS HE'LL SUPPORT LEARN HOW TO DRINK DRIVE

VICTORIA (CP)—Gordon Gibson, Liberal member for North Vancouver, told the legislature Tuesday he'll support a campaign to teach people how to drink.

But, he said, the legislature and its members should not try to tell people not to drink.

Mr. Gibson was commenting during discussion of alcoholism problems. He rose after John Tisdalle (SC-Saanich) a teetotaler, had suggested a clamp-down on advertising which glamorizes drinking.

Mr. Gibson, who is not a teetotaler, said "I'd like to hear those people who don't know too much about liquor just leave this question alone."

OSO Goes Into Space Seeking Man-Killers

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla.—(AP)—A solar observatory satellite was fired into orbit by the United States today to learn how solar radiation influences the weather and other conditions on earth and how great a threat it is to manned space flight.

The satellite, nicknamed OSO for orbiting solar observatory, was packed with instruments to give scientists their first clear look at basic mysteries of the sun.

The 458-pound OSO payload roared away from this spaceport at 11:06 a.m. aboard a full 11-year sunspot cycle.

Hees And Belgians Talk Of World Trade Issues

OTTAWA (CP)—Trade Minister Hees and Belgian Trade Minister Maurice Brasseur conferred for about an hour today on world trade matters and particularly on the development of the European Common Market.

Pierre Forthomme, director-general of administration for the Belgian trade department, speaking for Mr. Brasseur, said later that Belgian and other members of the European trading community are well aware that Canada is anxious over Britain's planned entry into the Common Market.

The ECM countries, he said, hope Canada realizes that they have no desire to harm her, or any other Commonwealth country, in negotiating for Britain's entry.

Mr. Forthomme said Mr. Brasseur explained the decision of the seven ECM members last January. It sets a period of eight years for the Common Market to become "full blown."

Shots Fired In Katanga

ELISABETHVILLE (Reuters)—Katanga and United Nations troops exchanged shots today near the installations here of the Belgian Union Minière mining company but there were no casualties, a UN spokesman said.

The spokesman said the exchange began when two Katangan guards fired on Belgian troops outside the installations.

Killer Storm Ravages US

NEW YORK (AP)—The remnants of a killer storm, storm of snow and freezing rain but strong battering winds and inundating tides, continued to lash the populous northeastern United States today.

The storm, the area's worst of a waning winter, piled up to three feet of snow in some inland centres and flooded vast coastal areas.

Menzies Just Wins Vote Of Confidence

CANBERRA (AP)—Prime Minister Robert Menzies' government won a vote of confidence in the Australian Parliament today by one vote.

Industry Grinds To Halt Police Probe Kootenays

NELSON (CP)—Many industrial operations in the Kootenays were shut down today by intermittent power breaks following the blasting of a 300-ton steel tower, severing a vital power line into the Creston Valley in the area's newest act of terrorism.

The blast, which came only a short time after six leaders of the radical Sons of Freedom Doukhobor sect had been arrested by RCMP, brought a demand from Mayor Joe Palyga of Trail that the federal government take steps to stop the "dastardly deeds being performed against society by a minority sect."

Set off with three charges are what is believed to have been nitroglycerine, the blast was termed by police as the "worst and most costly act of terrorism yet in the Kootenays."

Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company operations at Trail, Kimberley and other places were affected, throwing hundreds of men out of work. Officials said it was a "major act of industrial sabotage." It might be months before the power line could be restored.

The blasted power line across the lake 30 miles northeast of here, was described as the longest in the Western world. Three giant cables the tower had supported weighed 45 tons.

Follows Crackdown

The blast followed a new crackdown by RCMP on the Sons of Freedom, long blamed for burnings and blastings throughout the Kootenays.

Six top-ranking elders of the "Freedoms" ruling fraternal council were arrested. They were charged with wilfully attempting to obstruct the course of justice, but no further particulars of the charges were given immediately by police.

The arrests brought to 14 the total number of council members now under charges. And 89 Freedoms now have been charged or convicted in the RCMP crackdown on crime and terror in the Kootenays.

Newly-arrested members of the council were Tom Woykin, 61; Fred Chernackoff, 70; Nick Bryan, 54; Mike W. Hadikin, 74; John Sabinkoff, 43, and Pete Elasoof Sr., 61.

Reconciliation March By Europeans In Oran

ORAN, Algeria (AP)—Several hundred Europeans and Moslems paraded through nearby Mers-el-Kebir today in a demonstration of reconciliation after last week's murder of a mother and her two children by Moslems.

It was the first sign of peaceful coexistence in the city of 17,000 since the murders.

The death of the European mother and her children threw the two ethnic communities into a state of terror after living peacefully side-by-side through the 7½-year Algerian war.

The murders touched off a wave of individual terrorist attacks on both sides.

Today's demonstration was organized by Franco-Moslem veterans organizations.

Curbs Placed On Boeing 707's

CANBERRA (Reuters)—Some operational restrictions have been imposed on Boeing 707 jet airliners in Australia following last Thursday's New York crash in which 95 persons died, Civil Aviation Minister Shane Patridge told the Senate today. He said the restrictions were purely precautionary.

In Washington Tuesday the aviation agency issued new regulations on takeoff procedures for the 707s.

Crash Dead Buried

DOUALA, Cameroon Republic (Reuters)—The bodies of 111 persons killed in Sunday's air disaster were buried today, less than two miles from the nearby swampland where their British airliner crashed.

Schools were closed in many places, and thousands of homes were without power for hours. Atlantic City, N.B., and Ocean City, N.J., two famed shore resorts, were cut off from the mainland at the height of the storm when winds reached 75 m.p.h. and 20-foot waves poured ashore.

Part of the famed steel pier at Atlantic City was torn away and 2,000 feet of boardwalk was destroyed at New Jersey's Asbury Park.

Defected Pilot Invited To U.S.

TAIPEI, Formosa (Reuters)—A Chinese Communist pilot who defected to the Nationalists last Saturday with his MIG-15 jet fighter has been invited to the United States to brief U.S. authorities on the strength of the Communist air force and its training programs. Nationalist sources said today. He is Lieut. Liu Chen Sze, 24.

UK Medics Say Smoking Major Cancer Cause

LONDON (Reuters)—Smoking is a major cause of lung cancer, a Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons committee concluded in a long-awaited report issued here today.

The nine-member committee, set up in April, 1959, was headed by college president Sir Robert Platt.

"Smoking is a cause of lung cancer, though there are other causes, such as air pollution and substances met in a few occupations," the report said. "None of these is of general importance as smoking."

It said heavy cigarette smokers might have 30 times the death rate of non-smokers. Cigarette smokers, it said, are much more affected than pipe or cigar smokers.

"Some means of persuading cigarette smokers to stub out their cigarettes before the second half was burned would almost certainly reduce the risk," it added.

The committee was charged with inquiring into the relation between lung cancer and other ailments and smoking.

It said smoking could cause bronchitis, might help develop tuberculosis, especially in the aged, and appeared to play a role in causing arterial disorders other than high blood pressure.

Coronary heart conditions are a more frequent cause of death in smokers, mainly cigarette smokers, than non-smokers, it said.

Smoking also delayed healing of gastric and duodenal ulcers.

Ambush In S. Vietnam

SAIGON (AP)—Communist guerrillas are reported to have ambushed an under-strength company of South Vietnamese rangers in the Mekong River delta Wednesday, killing 24 government troops, capturing five and leading seven wounded.

It was the fourth considerable success of the Viet Cong guerrillas in South Viet Nam's southern and delta provinces in two weeks. In the same period government forces have reported two victories in which more than 100 Viet Cong troops were killed and hundreds wounded.

Bonner Explains Plans Before Budget Approved

VICTORIA (CP)—Power development and improvements in provincial correctional institutions highlighted more than seven hours of debate in the legislature Tuesday as members approved $12,577,000 in 1962-63 spending estimates for the Attorney-General's Department.

Attorney-General Bonner, under quizzing throughout, told the House:

That if necessary, the province could develop the Columbia River without an international treaty.

That new hospital facilities will be brought into use at Oakalla Prison Farm April 1.

That expansion of use of forestry camps will help relieve overcrowding at Oakalla.

Outside the house, he said that the government hopes within the next 10 years to be able to vacate entirely the present Oakalla Prison facilities in Burnaby.

Speaking of Columbia power development, Mr. Bonner said: "We are not thinking of doing anything contrary to the laws of this country, but ample precedent exists that Canada and the United States could come to-able in the estimates for the coming fiscal year to put it into operation immediately.

New hospital unit staff would be hired and the two steps would bring great improvement in treatment standards at the provincial jail.

Mr. Dowling said a newspaper report which quoted provincial legal experts as saying nothing could be done to stop B.C. from proceeding with the Columbia development without federal approval.

LIKES TREATY

Mr. Bonner said Mr. Dowling had become unduly excited and he repeated a statement made last year that B.C. could find means to develop the river other than those specified in the international treaty.

He added, however, that "we like the treaty and want to see it implemented."

Speaking of Oakalla, Mr. Bonner said prison authorities now are preparing to open hospital facilities in the building which formerly housed the Young Offenders Unit. Conversion of this building for hospital use had been completed last May at a cost of $68,000.

Funds were being made avail-

Technical Sense Vital But Then So Are Workers

MONTREAL (CP)—Nobility disagreed at the Canadian conference on education today that technical education is of vital importance, but labor leader Jean Marchand put in a reminder that the worker is important too.

Mr. Marchand, president of the Confederation of National Trade Unions, said technical and trade education is fine—it teaches a man how to make a living. It should, he insisted, also teach him a little bit about how to live.

He was one of four speakers at a conference forum called to study education and employment and what can be done by one to help the other.

Other speakers were H. L. Shepherd of the Canadian Westinghouse Company; Robert E. Byron of the Alberta education department, and C. Ross Ford of the Canada department of labor.

PRICE WAS HIGH

Mr. Byron said Canada in the past met its needs for skilled manpower largely by importing skilled workers, thereby denying Canadians a chance to participate fully in the development of their own country and in their own improvement.

The price had been high unemployment as an increasingly mechanized society called for in Canada hadn't been training them in skills.

There had been considerable confusion because educationists had been warned to stay away from Russia's system of training strictly for skills and there Byron of the Alberta education had been vigorous opposition to any reduction of training time at the expense of social studies, language and cultural subjects. Yet to keep up with standards of productivity in other countries, and to qualify for federal assistance under the technical and vocational training agreement, pressure was brought to bear for more and more skilled training as such.

A PREGNANT SUSPICION

BANGKOK (Reuters)—Four "pregnant" women were arrested here Monday as they hurried down the gangplank of a vessel that had just arrived from Southern Thailand.

Their "pregnancies" turned out to be 63 packs of playing cards, American cigarettes, liquor, and cosmetics.

Police said their suspicions were aroused when they saw the four "walking too fast for pregnant women."

Kelowna Chamber of Commerce has asked the provincial government for a $750 subsidy on its new Mission Creek beach.

Several members said last night they were "hopeful" the government might help pay for the levelling and filling at the new beach recently completed by a Kelowna bulldozing firm to the tune of $1,300 on a fill now, pay-later basis.

A committee is looking into raising funds to finance the beach. Meets for a five-man park board to handle its administration have already been forwarded to the provincial government.

Kelowna residents will have to be in two places at once to catch two of the most exciting shows of the season tonight.

Canadian Players bring their wealth of talent and versatility to the Kelowna High School auditorium for a presentation of the classic Shakespearean tragedy "Julius Caesar."

It's hoped to be a sell-out crowd. Curtain time is 8 p.m.

Equally compelling is tonight's presentation at Memorial Arena of the Kelowna Figure Skating Club's annual Ice Frolic.

A Canada Council Senior Fellowship worth $4,000, for travelling expenses, for a year has been awarded to Victorian artist Herbert Siebner.

Mr. Siebner is known here; he lectured on art in Kelowna and held painting workshops here in February. He was sponsored by the University Extension Department and the Okanagan Regional Arts Council.

The 37-year-old painter will leave early in June for a year-long trip through Greece, Italy, Turkey and Egypt to study different mural techniques in the lands where they originated.

Accompanying him will be wife, Hannelore and daughter Angela.

In addition to observing techniques, Mr. Siebner will contact contemporary practitioners of mural art and exchange ideas with them.

"I am very pleased and honored with the grant," he said. Only between 20 and 30 Senior Fellowships are awarded each year by the council and they must be spread throughout the entire artistic field including music and literature.

Although best known throughout the province for his work in painting, Mr. Siebner has been interested in music technique and its application to architecture for some time.

Michael H. Davison was elected president of the Kelowna Association at a luncheon meeting of the Association held Tuesday, March 6.

Patrick D. O'Neill is the new vice-president of the Association and R. Percy Tinker is the new secretary-treasurer.

The local Association of Kelowna lawyers has begun a continual examination matter such as dates of Court Sittings service by the Land Registry Office and representations to government.

Kelowna Chamber of Commerce executive is campaigning to have School District 23 declared a meat and poultry inspection area.

At a meeting held here Tuesday night, R. H. Wilson, heading a committee to look into the lack of proper inspection in the outlying areas, recommended that the Kelowna Chambers of Commerce be asked for their support and endorsement.

The City of Kelowna will also be urged to ask Peachland municipality for its approval.

Mr. Wilson in announcing his committee's findings said both poultry killing plant owners here are in favor of the move. He added only minor changes would be needed at the slaughter houses.

MEAT SOLD HERE

Under the present system, only meat that is to be sold in the city requires inspection and a city-approved stamp under a Meat Act bylaw passed in council in 1951. There is no inspection required on poultry.

The suggestion to make the school district the inspection area came from Dr. David Clarke, medical health officer, who pointed out the Health Unit has been pressing for such an area since 1955.

Establishing the inspection district would eventually mean all retail stores outside the Kelowna area couldn't sell uninspected meat.

For poultry people, the area would encourage development of their industry here as it would enable them with properly inspected fowl, to meet the outside competition.

Winfield Man David Toews

Kelowna magistrate D. White will hand down a decision March 13 on a careless driving charge laid by Howard Owen Woods of Whitebank.

Date for a further hearing will also be set at the time.

DURING FEB. SAYS REPORT

Precipitation in the Kelowna area dropped somewhat during the month of February, but it was still quite cool towards the end of the month, according to the monthly report of R. P. Walrod, observer at the Climatological Station of the Department of Transport.

A total of .63 inch of rain and 7425 inch of snow fell during the month, most of it on Feb. 27 to 29.

Mean maximum temperature was 37.61 degrees, and mean minimum was 26.96 degrees.

Temperature extremes during the month came on Feb. 3 when a reading of 53 degrees was taken, and on Feb. 26 when a chilly six degrees was recorded.

A former Manitoba school teacher, who came to Winfield in 1942, died recently, aged 78.

Funeral services for the late David Abram Tews will be held at 3 p.m. Tuesday at the Seventh-day Adventist Church in Winfield, Pastor C. S. Cooper officiating.

Interment will follow in Lakeview Memorial Park's Garden of Devotion.

Attend a meeting and if the speaker is as flat as yesterday's pancakes, the point is missed and his audience remains in a semi-comatose condition even if he is extraordinarily well-versed on his subject.

One of the points in tonight's first, and hopefully annual public speaking contest in Dr. Knox School, is to give young speakers a school in the door to the future.

There will be six student speakers from Dr. Knox, Rutland, and George Elliot schools.

Each has chosen his or her own subjects.

SPEAKERS

Speakers facing the panel of judges include from Rutland Susan Mazur, Grade 10 on the RCMP and Elfrida Silbernagel, Grade 9 on the Causes of Traffic Accidents; from George Elliot, Gladys Schuster, Grade 10 on Automatic Writing and Penny Folland, Grade 9 on the World Health Organization and from Dr. Knox, Manfred Borczcz, Grade 8 on the B70 and Sharon Blaskovits, Grade 8 on My Dog.

Judges for the contest which begins at 8 p.m. include citizens in the community who play public speaking roles either in service or community clubs, little theatre and school board.

BAND ON HAND

It will also be the first appearance of the Dr. Knox band and members of the Rutland operette being presented Thursday night will present choral arrangements.

Trophy for the winner has been donated by the Kelowna District Teachers.

David Quering, J. Siemens, W. Hessel.

Day's Funeral Service Ltd. is in charge of the arrangements.

Post Office Design By City Architect?

Okanagan Boundary MP David Pugh said last night he hopes a local architect will design the new postoffice and federal building here.

In a letter to Kelowna Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Pugh sent his congratulations to the city for finally receiving the federal go-ahead on the anticipated project.

He added the design may come from the drawing board of a local architect.

An Okanagan Mission motel owner called it "unfair, unjust and damaging" to incriminate a whole area for allowing unhealthy water and sewage conditions to exist.

A salesman does not necessarily have to be liked by clients in order to be a success. If this were true there would be very few successful salesmen. I would say, however, that one feeling a salesman man evoke is one of confidence, respect.

And so it goes in our private lives: we all have an inner quality of liking and disliking and admittedly we cannot rate ourselves in an image which is to be liked by everyone. It would be impossible, but on the other hand, I believe we have control over the respect and confidence which our community places with us.

Vocational Training Now In The Spotlight

The spotlight today is beginning to focus upon vocational education. For many years now vocational education, at least in this country, has waited in the shadows of the wings on the stage of higher learning, while university education has received the limelight and the applause. Immigrants from Europe, well-trained by the system of apprenticeship and other vocational training in vogue there, have been stepping ahead of our native Canadians in many lines of endeavor. Canadian school drop-outs and graduates have often drifted into jobs because of their availability at the moment, rather than as a result of an aptitude for, and acquisition of skills in that particular vocation.

Vocational training lacks the aura of respectability that surrounds university training. We have bowed low before the idol of a university education and sacrificed many of our students on its altar. As much as 80 per cent of our high school population has been enrolled in a program designed to lead to an institution of higher learning geared to accept only 25 per cent of the group and actually accepting a much smaller number. In the process many worthy students have dropped out of school and drifted into any job that could be found. Also we have been keeping in our public schools many students who should be out earning a living, or better still, learning how to earn a living.

The standard of excellence demanded by employers today is not very high. We continually hear reports of poor workmanship and poor service in all trades and professions. Employees are accepted as carpenters, clerks, equipment operators and so on, with no previous training and no organized attempt to provide in-service training. For pay purposes, beginners are often classed with veterans, with consequent lowering of standards in all categories.

The present program of expansion of vocational and technical training facilities is long overdue in British Columbia and should be a welcome addition to the facilities for higher learning. The introduction of vocational training on an expanded scale in the secondary schools will also play a part. It must be pointed out that providing courses other than academic is expensive and the cost of education is bound to rise as a result. But the financial benefits derived indirectly from the provision of a better qualified pool of employees should offset this by a considerable amount.

To profit from any type of higher learning, the student must have good learning habits and good attitudes as well as fundamental background material. To provide these has always been the role of the public schools. The provision of more definite and acceptable goals by the enlargement of opportunities for higher education perhaps will provide the additional motivation for our young people to do a better job at school. Public acceptance of only the best possible work from all will help ensure the acceptance of vocational and technical education for what it is—the opportunity for Canada and Canadians to forge ahead to a higher standard of production and living than before.

Kelowna and the Okanagan Valley are particularly fortunate in that a regional vocation school will be built here. This school will provide an opportunity and a challenge to all of us to show, by our interest and support, that vocational training is as important to our students and the community at large as university training has been in the past and is at present. With this kind of support the vocational school will become an institution in which we can take a great deal of pride.—C. A. Bruce, Principal, Kelowna High School.

A Bargain — Politicians

Gordon Gibson, fiery millionaire MLA, has suggested in Victoria that the Premier's salary be increased from its present $15,000 to $60,000 a year.

Premier W. A. C. Bennett thanked Mr. Gibson for the suggestion and made one of his own by stating there just isn't enough money to pay a Premier for the work he does.

Mr. Bennett modestly states if he wanted to make money he'd have stayed in business.

Both men are right. Mr. Gibson, like many people, realizes that to attract men of the calibre of running a billion dollar province, the people must be prepared to pay them for their time and talents.

Premier Bennett, like many others who serve their country, is in there pitching because he is dedicated—certainly not for financial gain.

And the same applies in lesser degree to the cabinet ministers and MLAs.

Whatever political opinions a person holds, it cannot be said either of these men are in politics for money, for both are independently financially secure.

They could easily say, "Why should we work like this anyway. Let's throw up the whole deal. No one really cares."

But they don't. They take the rough and tumble of nerve-racking political battle in stride because BIG men meet a challenge, they do not bypass it.

And the same holds true for other politicians in Canada, whose remuneration is far below that which they would receive from industry.

VICTORIA MERRY-GO-ROUND

Session Of MLAs Is Unnecessary!

By JAMES K. NESBITT
VICTORIA—When I observe a session such as this one, I become convinced anew that we could get along with a meeting of the Legislature every two years, as in Washington State.

This session is quite unnecessary, except to permit MLAs to make long speeches.

Oh, yes, they'll be voting money for the public service, but that, really, is only so much window dressing. As I've said before, the House sits for days going through the processes of voting money, pretending a government cannot spend one cent without approval of the Legislature; but, the minute the House is prorogued, and everyone's out of the way, the government can spend all the money it wants.

The government did not, for instance, have to ask Legislature for nearly $7,000,000 to buy Black Ball Ferry Lines.

The budget debate was allowed by the Premier to drag and dawdle along, because he had nothing much else lined up for this session. If he had, the Premier would be hustling the session, though saying he was doing no such thing. But he's content to let the boys talk and talk and talk, knowing there's little else for them to do.

Some people are always viewing with alarm and feigned disgust the bad manners and short tempers and the nasty name-calling indulged in by our MLAs.

This is, however, nothing new; there have always been bad manners in our legislatures, and I daresay there always will be, as long as MLAs are human beings, and not robots. It would be excruciatingly dull if everyone was so polite. Personally, I couldn't stand it. We need rough-and-tumble, every now and then, to liven up the legislative scene, and keep folk on their toes.

I've often noticed that when MLAs are too polite, and too business-like, the public galleries empty, everybody bored to death.

Yes, always bad manners in B.C. Legislatures, from the very beginning of things.

TO YOUR GOOD HEALTH

Hiccups Are A Nuisance

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: When my baby was small he spit up, just like any other child. Now at seven months he doesn't spit up; he brings it up little by little the whole day.—M.H.

From the letter I'm not sure whether this is drooling, or whether the baby is bringing up food.

If it is just saliva, probably it will clear up in time. If, on the other hand, it is a matter of bringing up food, then some causative trouble may exist. A spasm or partial obstruction of the gullet or stomach can cause this sort of thing.

There's another trick that some of the little tykes can perform. It's called rumination—a willful regurgitation of food.

In such cases facial expression or movement of the mouth may give you a clue that he is up to such a stunt.

If this is the case, it may be a bid for attention—and it can become a habit. By careful watching (truly a chore!) and distracting his attention, you may be able to help break the habit.

In any event, consult your doctor to rule out the possibility of any physical disorder.

Dear Dr. Molner: I was told I have a polyp in the large intestine. Is there any difference between a polyp and a diverticulum? And is surgery the only way to get rid of polyps?—M.F.

Difference? Yes, indeed. A polyp is a growth from a mucous surface. A diverticulum is a sort of pouch. Surgery is the only way to remove polyps, but it is comparatively simple. Since polyps in the intestinal tract (as distinct from polyps in other parts of the body) have a rather bad record for being (or becoming) malignant, it's well to get rid of them.

Dear Dr. Molner: My obstetrician prescribed some pills for constipation during my pregnancy. It is now several months after the birth of my baby and I am still dependent on them. Otherwise I become painfully constipated.—MRS. T.J.

Use of them temporarily is understandable. Some people do have this trouble in pregnancy. On the other hand, if you didn't have constipation before, there's no valid reason why you should have it afterward.

My suggestions: Taper off on the pills, every other day at first, then every third day. Try for some definite time each day for bowel action, before or after a given meal, morning or evening or whenever suits your physical rhythm.

Drinking three to four EXTRA glasses of water a day often does wonders. If you still have some trouble, glycerine suppositories can help.

Dear Dr. Molner: My son is almost 16 but has hardly grown at all for two years, and is not tall for his age. He also has a very dry skin. Do you think he has some thyroid trouble?—MRS. K.I.

It's possible. There are other causes of dry skin, and there certainly are other causes of not growing as tall as one might prefer. Within very narrow margins, our height is governed by heredity rather than anything that happens later.

It's also well known that some boys and girls get their height early; others have a growing spurt later. It isn't too intricate a task to have the boy's thyroid, and other glandular activity, checked. If it is faulty, now's the time to start treatment. If it's normal, then accept the fact that he'll be as tall or as short as Nature intends him to be, and that there's still time for him to do some more growing.

In doing research the other day I found that a gentleman named George Cruikshank, of whom I had never heard before, was running for the House in 1841 and The Victoria Colonist, supporting him, said: "He is blessed with an amiability of disposition, and a refinement of manners that may tend to lessen, rather than increase, those acerbities which lower so much the dignity of the legislatures of young countries."

Well, now, if that be true, British Columbia is still a very young country indeed—and what's wrong with youth? I should add that Mr. Cruikshank was not elected. I guess the people of that day found him too dull and polite. Actually, I think he was a bit of a dull character, because he opposed the union of the Crown Colonies of Vancouver Island and of British Columbia.

If I speak the truth, I must admit I prefer bad manners now and then to dullness and uncouth politeness the whole live-long day.

OTTAWA REPORT

Why Aloof After Goof?

By PATRICK NICHOLSON

When a politician's tongue runs embarrassingly away from his Party line, he customarily bows in anguish "I was misquoted."

Hon. J. W. Pickersgill, a Liberal M.P. from Newfoundland, was recently reported as urging before a Quebec audience that Canada should have two national flags: one containing the Union Jack and the other not.

Mr. P. had put his foot in his mouth. When he returned to Ottawa he was promptly—perhaps not cleverly—his position.

"Judging by press and radio reports, I did not express clearly the position I took on the flag," he confessed. But the uniformity of ear-witness reports made it obvious that he had expressed clearly—although perhaps not cleverly—his position.

However Mr. P.'s amendment continued: "What I was seeking so say was that . . ." Now no newspaper can use a crystal ball to divine what any politician is "seeking" to say; we can only deal with what he actually does say.

DIS-UNION JACK

This column deplored Mr. P.'s attempt to make the essentially nationwide interest of Canada's flag into a sectional political issue. It likened to the teenage guilt complex which hides in the woodshed to smoke, Mr. P.'s suggestion that we should use at home a national flag excluding the Union Jack, but use a different flag including the Union Jack in other Commonwealth countries.

As part of his tidying-up process, Mr. P. then wrote a letter to the editor of this paper, asserting that my comments "contained a complete misrepresentation of something I was supposed to have said."

That boring exercise contained an amazing phrase: "A misrepresentation of something I was supposed to have said." That double doubt admits the baseness of his accusation.

He may not have intended to say that Canada should have two flags, one with and the other without the Union Jack; but he did "two flags, just as we have two languages," he clarified.

Let us compare the two versions.

"Mr. Pickersgill recommended," this column wrote, "first, the choice of a flag on which would appear the Union Jack, to represent Canada in Great Britain and the other countries of the Commonwealth. Second, he recommended the adoption of a distinctive flag without any emblem of dependence to represent Canada across the country and at the United Nations."

NO DIFFERENCE

Mr. Pickersgill's correction (?) was summarized in these words: "When I was asked if that would mean two flags, I said, yes, one distinctive of Canada and one containing the Union Jack for our association in the Commonwealth."

Mr. P.'s embarrassment is understandable; but not his complaint that he was "misrepresented" by this column. His anguish more likely stems not from my quoting of his words but from my deduction that "dis-Union Jack" Pickersgill's suggestion savours of the woodshed guilt complex.

Probably he expected that I would feel properly chastened and corrected by his letter appearing in print in so many papers carrying this "Ottawa Report." But in my opinion such frequent and generally groundless criticism of the responsible press by embarrassed politicians of all parties calls for a firm rebuttal by those attacked. There are occasions of deliberate misquotation and misrepresentation no doubt; but as the sentences quoted above show, this column did correctly report the proposal for two national flags of Canada, one including and the other excluding the Union Jack.

Began Business With Sick Lion

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Take a sickly mountain lion and $50. Toss in an old typewriter, add determination and stir with enthusiasm.

Then, says Dale Logston, "work like hell."

With these unusual ingredients, Logston, blind since childhood, has built an international wild animal import and export business.

"Five years ago I was jobless. I had about $50 and a sick little mountain lion given me by a Tulsa zoo."

"I came to Fort Worth, put $50 down on a house and hooked my old college typewriter for $35. I cured the mountain lion and traded him the Central Texas zoo in Waco. In return, I got 35 rattlesnakes, a dozen great horned owls, a few miscellaneous animals like raccoons and skunks and some hawks."

"I sat down and wrote a dozen people I knew who fool with these things, and I made the price so cheap they had no alternative but to buy."

"I wound up with $300. To supplement things, I put my wife to work for two years. We got things rolling pretty good and now, well I can't complain." Logston's Animals International supplies zoos in many cities in the United States and Canada as well as such circuses as Clyde Beatty's and Gil Gray's.

Logston has a touch with animals. He's only been in serious trouble with snakes. Two rattlers have bitten him as well as two copperheads, one of which was a pet that someone alarmed while Logston was holding it.

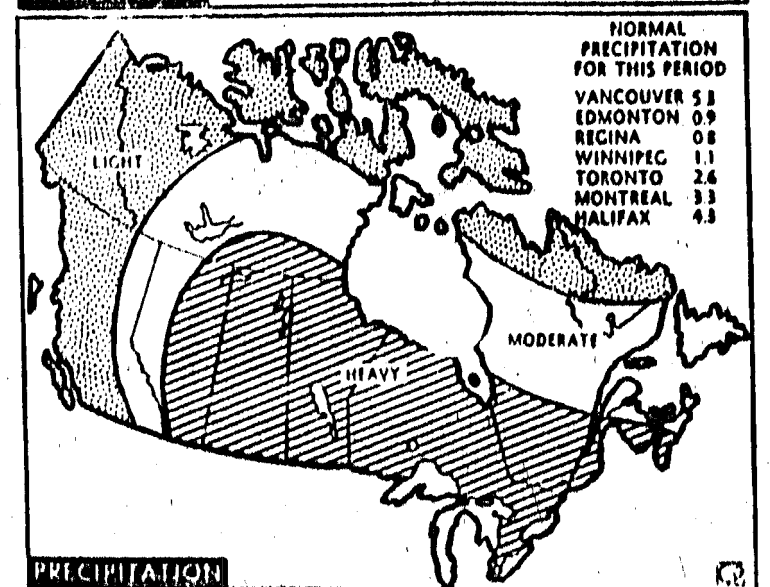

He's had more problems from understanding humans.

"The neighbors got kinda tired of antelope and the sort roaming around their lawns."

One woman gazed in terror as an antelope ambled into the yard where her daughter was playing. One of Logston's chimpanzees startled another housewife by walking in the kitchen door as she was cooking dinner.

Needless to say the neighbors finally called the zoning board. "I can't blame them," said Logston, "I'd probably complain, too, if I had a neighbor like me."

The zoning board gave Logston until next summer to relocate.

COLD FOR PRAIRIES

Below-normal temperatures are predicted for most of Canada west of Quebec in the 30-day outlook of the United States weather bureau for March. The outlook is based on long-range predictions and is not a specific forecast. A change in weather pattern may produce major errors. Heavy precipitation is expected in most areas except the west coast. Normal precipitation is given in inches of rain; one inch of rain equals 10 inches of snow. (CP Newmap).

ANN LANDERS

Come Down To Earth

Dear Ann Landers: I'm an attractive matron with a devoted husband, lovely children, beautiful home, and many advantages which I fully appreciate. I also have a perpetual headache. I can't forget the fellow I was in love with during my college days.

Please don't say this is ridiculous. I know it. I've been successful in pushing the memories out of my mind for several days at a time. Then they return, stronger than ever.

I haven't seen this man in years but I know he lives in a city about 300 miles away. I've considered going to see him (casually of course) hoping that one look will put an end to my foolishness. But I'm afraid he may be more attractive than ever and then I'd be in for real trouble.

I need advice from someone who is sane. It is obvious that I am — AN ADDLE-BRAINED LADY.

Dear Addle-Brained Lady: The man in your mind is nothing like the fellow you knew in college and even less like the guy who lives 300 miles away. The years have softened out all his undesirable traits and magnified his attractive qualities.

And small wonder you envision him as such a dreamboat — the only contact you have with him is inside your head. If you had to live with this man — in the world of reality — washing his socks, picking up his clothes, putting up with his relatives, nursing his hangovers and stretching his pay check you'd soon come down to earth.

Dear Ann Landers: Frugal Fanny had better be careful or she may be tittering it out in jail or paying a costly fine. I refer to the woman who thought it was perfectly O.K. to drop Christmas cards into the mail boxes of the apartments tenants and thus save the price of the stamps.

For her—and for other Frugal Fannies who may be entertaining such notions here is the law: United States Criminal Code, Section 1725, Title 18. "Whosoever knowingly and willfully deposits any mailable matter . . . on which no postage has been paid . . . with intent to avoid payment of lawful postage there on shall for each such offense be fined not more than $300."—UNCLE'S LITTLE HELPER.

Dear Ann Landers: I took your advice 18 months ago and you solved my problem. But you created a problem worse than the one you solved. I'm sorry I listened to you.

My husband was a heavy drinker. He had a heart of gold but he could never quite make it home on payday with his check.

You suggested Alcoholic Anonymous. Well it worked. He hasn't touched a drop in over a year, but I liked him better the other way.

He has become very tight with money. He won't even buy himself a lunch. He walks to work to save bus fare. He wants me to account for every dime I spend, even though I work and earn almost as much as he does. He doesn't have a sense of humor anymore and he isn't any fun. At least when he was drinking he was jolly. What do you say now?—MAD AT YOU.

Dear Mad: I say you have a pretty short memory. I remember your letter well and it was pathetic. Your husband used to forget where he lived and you had to go out at night checking the saloons to bring him home. You were a nervous wreck and had a terrible time holding your job because you were up all night with him.

His drinking was beginning to affect his health and you were afraid he would lose his job because of absenteeism. And you're complaining because he isn't jolly? Now you're the one who is sick!

First Lady Finds Ottawa Very Quiet After Moscow

OTTAWA (CP)—The austere facade of the Soviet embassy and the severe simplicity of its interior are in contrast with the warm charm of its first lady.

An attentive and thoughtful hostess, Mrs. Aroutunian, wife of the ambassador, likes entertaining at both large and small parties—"the main thing is to find friends."

She says, however, that she misses her work as a scientist and engineer.

Although Mrs. Aroutunian is an Armenian, she was born and brought up in Tbilisi, capital of Georgia, a republic near the Black Sea. She attended the Industrial Institute there, studying the chemical and technical processes of ceramic and glass production.

The six-year course included practical training at the glass factory on Gorki and the glass and china factory in Leningrad.

After graduating with an engineering degree as a specialist in ceramics, she went to Armenia to work as head of the science laboratory in a gypsum and alabaster factory in Yerevan, the capital. Later she became chief engineer of a china factory there.

PREFERS WORKING
She met her husband in 1933 while he was visiting Yerevan and they were married a year later, living in Moscow until their Canadian posting three years ago.

"For a working woman it is very difficult to stay at home," she said in an interview.

"I would like to be back working at my specialty. I like my profession; it combines science, chemistry and art. One works with beautiful things."

To keep up with developments Mrs. Aroutunian gets special magazines and technical publications from the Soviet Union.

Since coming to Canada she has travelled through much of

Social Items From Westbank

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Popp and family have left for Prince George where they will take up residence.

Mrs. Rita Nelson, assisted by her mother Mrs. E. Gaskell, entertained at the tea hour, honoring her sister-in-law Mrs. Lawrence Kneller, on the occasion of her birthday. Those present were: Mrs. M. Biernes, Mrs. O. Charlton, Mrs. C. Svean, Mrs. C. Fenton, Mrs. W. J. Hewlett, Mrs. H. Kneller, Mrs. Adolf Munk, Mrs. Learne and Mrs. G. Roth of Kelowna.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Griffin Sr. and family have moved into the home formerly owned by Mr. O. Charlton on 1st St. S., and the Charlton family have moved into the former Griffin home on 4th Ave. N. W.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Gaskell are moving into the McCaulder home on Highway 97.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Madryga and family spent the weekend at the home of Mrs. Madryga's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Fearnley, and while here Mrs. Madryga attended the Masonic Social evening in Peachland with her parents.

Ottawa and has been to Pugh, N.S., twice—once when Cyrus Eaton received the Lenin Peace Prize and again when spaceman Yuri Gagarin visited there.

During a recent six-week trip home she visited her daughter Karine, 16, in Yerevan, and her sister, an engineer-geologist in Tbilisi.

Karine, a daughter by a former marriage, would like to be a research worker in mathematics, she says.

As for Ottawa, Mrs. Aroutunian says she finds it "cozy," especially in the spring with its flowers and greenery.

"But after Moscow I found it very quiet and with very few people. Of course, there's no place like home."

Registered Nurses Sponsor Course On Rehabilitation

A very successful and well-attended Regional Institute on Rehabilitation sponsored by the Registered Nurses Association of B.C. was held in the Anglican Hall. There were 120 nurses registered and an over all attendance during the clinic of over 400. Representatives came from Vernon, Penticton, Oliver, Kamloops, Summerland, Princeton and Kelowna. The clinic was conducted by Miss Esther Janzow R.N., Victorian Order of Nurses, Victoria B.C.

Stroke cases are being rehabilitated more quickly, but there is still a great need for more trained physiotherapists, occupational and speech therapists as at present there are only 20 in training at U.B.C.

Miss Joyce Denny, physiotherapist at the Underhill Clinic, Kelowna, gave a lecture with exercise demonstrations on volunteer patients, (nurses) showing how hospital nurses and the family at home may help to bring the disabled person back to be a useful member of the community and independency in self care.

Miss J. Critchley, C.A.R.S. Physiotherapist, demonstrated with a patient who had a stroke 3 months ago and was paralyzed on the left side. He is now able to walk with a cane, move from bed to wheel chair and aid in dressing himself.

Thursday evening, a panel composed of Dr. G. N. Stewart, Dr. W. O'Donnell, Dr. D. A. Clarke, Miss N. Genett, R.N., Miss J. Critchley, Miss J. Denny and Miss E. Janzow as moderator, answered questions, and proved very interesting. A film, titled, "Still Going Places" showed rehabilitation at work and what can be accomplished in this field.

News From East Kelowna

The East Kelowna Community Hall was gayly decorated with colored streamers for the Teenagers dance last weekend. The hall was crowded and dancing to the music of the Lown Beats Orchestra was greatly enjoyed. Refreshments were available. In attendance at the party were Mr. D. Lawrence, Mr. G. Porter and Mr. E. Malen.

Mr. Marlow Hicks who sold his property in East Kelowna has moved to the Glenmore district, with his son Morty.

The Red Cross Campaign starts on Monday and canvassers will be busy in the East Kelowna district.

Friends of Mrs. F. D. Price and Mrs. W. Sallis will be pleased to hear that they have both returned to their homes from hospital and are reported to be progressing favourably.

DESIGN ARCTIC HOT-HOUSE
LONDON (AP)—Soviet architects have designed a resort hot-house to provide 500 Arctic residents with summer vacations. Enclosed by tall glass walls, the resort will cover 1 1/4 acres and will have gardens, animals, a hotel, and constant summer temperatures. Heat will be generated by 2,500 special lamps, supplementing the sparse warmth of the Arctic sun, said Moscow radio.

REFUSES PETITION
GLASGOW (AP)—A suggestion that wives of prisoners be permitted to spend a night occasionally with their husbands in jail cells has been turned down by John MacLay, secretary of state for Scotland. MacLay was unmoved by what has become known as the love petition of Christine Neill, whose husband is serving a 10-year sentence for assault. MacLay's office said it is impossible to relax present restrictions.

Pioneer Living Proof That Enderby's Healthy

VERNON (Staff) — In 1936 doctors in England were doubtful he could withstand the long ship-rail journey from Britain to the Okanagan. He was considered in poor health and they advised against the trip.

But Graham Rosoman paid no heed to this medical advice. He left the security of a steady position in a London architect's office for the unprotected wilds of Enderby.

Yesterday, he celebrated his 101st birthday.

As expected, centenarian Rosoman made his mark on the community. He had a civic medal struck in his honor, was the first freeman of the city of Enderby and was presented to a governor-general.

HEALTH FIRST
Mr. Rosoman was born in London and as a young man was employed to select public school sites for his architect employer. This was the beginning of public education in Britain.

Growing reports of Enderby and district outweighed any thought of continuing this work, and since it was true he was not well as a young man, regaining his health was foremost in his mind.

And regain his health he did. In 1905 with the incorporation of Enderby as a city he became its first city clerk, a position he held until 1939. In that year, far from ready for retirement, he became city supervisor and his daughter Hazel took over as city clerk.

MANY JOBS
During the same period he was also city collector, treasurer and was magistrate from 1907 to 1944 and stipendiary magistrate for the County of Yale.

During his long term as city clerk he accomplished what few civic servants can boast. He attended more than 1,000 consecutive council meetings and for this unique record a medal was struck in his honor.

He met Lord Alexander of Tunis, then Canadian Governor-General who visited the area as part of a cross-country tour in 1948.

Mr. Rosoman was made the first freeman of the city of Enderby in 1952 and at an anniversary meeting of council oldtimers in 1955 he was presented with the special medal.

He now lives with his daughter Hazel, at their home on Belvedere St. Miss Rosoman who has devoted much of her life to the care of her father is now retired from her position at City Hall.

Yesterday, still hale and hearty, but requiring a good deal of rest, Mr. Rosoman entertained senior citizens at his home at a special birthday tea.

CELEBRATING HIS 101ST birthday, 66 years of which were spent in civic life in Enderby, Graham Rosoman surveys a special cake for the occasion with obvious pleasure. Senior citizens and well-wishers congregated at the Rosoman home yesterday for small birthday party. Mr. Rosoman was the first freeman of Enderby. (Courier Staff Photo).

Full Houses at Armstrong For Student Productions

ARMSTRONG (Correspondent) — Students of Armstrong-Spallumcheen junior-senior high school played to a full house last week—the first performance of their annual two-day spring production, being held in the Recreation Hall.

Principal Dennis R. Stubbs, in his opening remarks, expressed the school's thanks to all the "behind-the-scenes" people who had assisted, and also to the ladies (under the direction of Mrs. W. G. Dodds) who had helped the girls make costumes.

The first play, Aladdin And The Wonderful Lamp, directed by Gordon Schnare, had as its setting scenes that could have been taken from the Arabian Nights. Players were: Shirley Ann Danallanko, Brenda Suter, Ingrid Wellmeier, Judy Allen, Burkhard Heimann, Stephen Heal, Allan Howard, Eugene Wirth, Allan Watt, Patricia Hassen, Walter Upper, George Schafer, Brenda Suter. The soldiers were played by Kelly Reimer, Stephen Enrich, Garry Brunner, Roy Moore, Tyler Huber and Pat Corley.

Milk Drivers Merge With Workers' Union
VERNON (Staff) — Labor Relations Board, Victoria, has notified the Okanagan Dairy Industry that local 464, the Milk Sales Drivers and Dairy Workers' Union, has been amalgamated.

In future, unless a protest from the industry or members, it will be one of seven Okanagan labor unions welded into one and known as the General Teamster's Local 181. Official registration has come from James Hoffa, Washington, D.C.

Club Plans Fish Derby

VERNON (Staff) — Armstrong Fish and Game Club will host a fish derby Sunday at Goose Lake, which is located two miles on the west side above Swan Lake. Prizes, coffee and doughnuts will be offered.

Members stress that it may be anglers last chance this year to catch Eastern brook trout through holes in the ice. Two three-quarter pound trout have been taken within the past two weeks. The lake is well stocked at present.

Five prizes will be awarded at the derby in men's category, women's, girls' under 14, boys' under 14, and a prize for the most pounds of fish caught. Tickets for the derby can be secured at Bronsons Hardware, Sheppard Hardware and Armstrong Advertiser, in Armstrong, and Vtel and Field Gunsmiths and Art's Sports Shop, Vernon.

Art Exhibits Set For Vernon Show

VERNON (Staff) — Vernon art circles will feature a collection by eight Ontario painters here March 21-23 in the United Church Hall.

Thirty-two contemporary paintings will be offered, the total exhibition weighs more than 1,700 pounds. It is brought here as part of the Western Canada Arts Circuit, of which the Vernon Arts Club is a member.

The operetta Pirates of Penzance, under the direction of Don Levey, had as its locale an authentic-looking rocky cave on the Cornwall coast, and a ruined chapel by moonlight.

The players in the humorous musical were: Brian Hilt, David Stubbs, Donald Dodds, David Bosomworth, Marlene Allen, Edith Brent, Terry Bronson. The general's daughters were played by Kathryn Bechtold, Anne Blumenauer, Joan Carlson, Sharon Cloughton, Griselda Clemonson, Virginia Evans, Shirley Foster, Linda McAulley, Sharon Norman, Janice Smith, Terri Smith and Dianne Svenson.

Pirates were: Doug Ford, Glen Hill, Terry Simpson, Steve Spelehan, Ken Stubbs, Brian Svenson, Don Hill, Arnold Harsynchuk, Ron Babb, Neil Barsagar, Alfred Fowler and Terry Spragg. The last six of these players also played the parts of the policemen.

The following were elected to office by the Enderby unit of B.C. Cancer Institute: President, Mrs. Frances Haugen; vice-president, Mrs. L. Hobbs; hon. president, Dr. J. H. Kope; secretary - treasurer, Mrs. D. Ward; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Ellington; sewing convenor, Mrs. R. White; welfare committee, Dr. A. Dixon; Dr. J. H. Kope, and Mrs. H. Woolman, public health nurse.

The Enderby High School basketball team the Fortunes journeyed to Winfield Saturday to play in the Okanagan "B" class playoffs. They were defeated by Merritt High School. Other schools participating were Merritt, Winfield and Penticton, Penticton taking the championship.

WATER PROSPECTS AVERAGE AROUND VERNON DISTRICT

VERNON—Prospects for water for the coming season are about average in Vernon district following "snow readings" last week by W. K. Dobson, who makes a hobby of this study.

At the Aberdeen Lake course, there is one inch less snow than at the beginning of February, but one inch more water than at Feb. 1. There are now: 24 1/2 of snow with a water content of seven inches, about normal said Mr. Dobson for this time of year.

At Silver Star snow course the amount of snow is the same as Feb. 1 at 55 inches with a water content of 18 inches, two inches more than when last read.

Last year there was 64 inches of snow on the Star with only 16 inches of water.

Funeral Services Held For Mrs. E. Fuhr Tuesday

VERNON (Staff) — Funeral services were held Tuesday for Elizabeth Fuhr, who died in Vernon Jubilee Hospital March 3. She was 73.

Mrs. Fuhr came to Canada in 1908, and made her home at Stony Plain, Alta. In February 1909, she married Jacob Fuhr and resided in Stony Plain till 1920, then she moved to South Vernon where she has been a resident until her death.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Fuhr celebrated their golden anniversary in 1959.

Survivors are: her husband, Jacob; one son Phillip and a daughter, Mrs. Joe Gabriel, of Vernon; also seven grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted by Lt. Ian Carmichael, Salvation Army, burial in the family plot, Vernon Cemetery.

Visits, Events At Armstrong

ENDERBY (Correspondent) — Mr. and Mrs. Andy Daem and Judy Daem travelled to Kelowna on the weekend to visit their daughter Mrs. Art Lane and family. The Lane family leave Kelowna shortly to join Mr. Lane in Dawson City where they will reside.

The World Day of Prayer will be held at St. George's Anglican Church on March 9.

During March a special class is being held at Enderby High School called the principals of the public speaking group. It is conducted by H. Aftink and is open to all young people in junior high and up on Thursdays in the lunch hour.

The following were elected to office by the Enderby unit of B.C. Cancer Institute: President, Mrs. Frances Haugen; vice-president, Mrs. L. Hobbs; hon. president, Dr. J. H. Kope; secretary - treasurer, Mrs. D. Ward; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Ellington; sewing convenor, Mrs. R. White; welfare committee, Dr. A. Dixon; Dr. J. H. Kope, and Mrs. H. Woolman, public health nurse.

The Enderby High School basketball team the Fortunes journeyed to Winfield Saturday to play in the Okanagan "B" class playoffs. They were defeated by Merritt High School. Other schools participating were Merritt, Winfield and Penticton, Penticton taking the championship.

Cold Fails To Harm Orchards

VERNON—The recent wintry weather has done no harm to the orchards, district horticulturist M. G. Oswell said today.

He explained that fruit trees did not "break dormancy" during the mild weather early in February, and were in good condition to stand the recent low temperatures.

The weekend snowfall will help protect the trees from further low temperature he said, and the snowfall will protect strawberries and pastures.

Orchardists are getting on with tree pruning, he said. Deep snow in December and January made this operation difficult but pruning should be completed within two weeks. A dormant spray will also be applied to fruit trees later this month Mr. Oswell said.

Lowly-Placed Armstrong Hand Defeat To Warriors

VERNON (Staff) — Although jointly holding down last place in North Okanagan hockey in league standings with Head of The Lake Stampede, Armstrong Cougars met with third place Grandview Warriors and defeated them 4-2 at Vernon Civic Arena Tuesday night.

The Cougars, well out of a playoff spot, played one of their best games of the year as they managed to keep pace with the powerful Warriors.

Warriors hit the score sheet at 17:32 of the first on a goal by Jack Hay with Dennis Cullings and Wayne Smith assisting. Warriors made it 2-0 at the mid-point of the game when Dennis Cullings went alone to beat Ray Ostrass in Cougar nets.

GOOD FORM
Young John Taranskic showing unusual good form, put the Cougars on the score sheet at 11:37 of the second when he picked up a pass from Trevor Thompson and drove a hard slap shot from inside the blue-line to beat Bob Jones in Warriors' net.

Making a big night of it, Taranskic tied up the game at 5:45 of the third when he scored unassisted. Exactly two minutes later at 7:45, Taranskic scored a hat trick when he and Bob Brown went around the Warrior defence with Taranskic shoving the puck past Jones at the last split second.

Warriors managed to outshoot the Cougars, as Ray Ostrass, playing his usual good brand of goalkeeping came through with 38 saves for Cougars, while Bob Jones had it comparatively easy with only 13 shots coming his way.

RED CROSS MEET

Armstrong Delegate At Coast

ARMSTRONG (Correspondent) — Mrs. Robert J. Coldicott is attending the annual provincial council meeting of the Canadian Red Cross Society being held in the Vancouver Hotel. She is official delegate for the Armstrong branch of the Red Cross.

Mrs. Reg. J. Sarell left Thursday for Vancouver, where she will undergo medical treatment at Vancouver General Hospital.

Visitors at the home of Mrs. A. Saby this past week were, Mr. and Mrs. Eden of Vernon and Mrs. Bert Keen of Grindrod.

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Shepherd and daughter Jean returned recently from a holiday trip to California.

W. A. Cuthbert returned Thursday from a 10-day visit to La Jolla Calif., where he stayed with his brother.

Paintings For City Museum

VERNON — Vernon Board of Museum and Archives last week received two donations for the museum. They are two paintings by the late Captain Vidler, a Vernon resident at the turn of the century. One was donated by Mrs. W. Holt Wilson, and is a seascape near Victoria.

The other was given by Mrs. Violet Sunderland, and is a scene on Harris Creek, near Lumby. Both Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Sunderland are Vernon residents.

Dr. D. A. Ross, speaking for the museum board, said today that both these pictures are of historic interest. One of the paintings is signed: "A.V." Vidler Mountain was so named after the late captain.

Conductor's Plan May Cut Orchestra Travel Time

VERNON (Staff) — If conductor Willem Bertsch has his way, Vernon musicians won't have too many miles to travel to attend Okanagan Valley Symphony Orchestra rehearsals next season.

Mr. Bertsch recently suggested a plan that would bring him from Vancouver to each of the major Okanagan centres for one day every two weeks. At present, the conductor flies to Penticton every second Sunday for rehearsals with the entire orchestra.

"The proposed system would make it possible for the orchestra to rehearse in smaller units and come together as a complete orchestra less often," said Mr. Bertsch.

Forty musicians from communities from Kamloops to Osoyoos, so far this year have travelled about 15,000 miles to practice together in Penticton where the school board has sponsored the rehearsals under the adult education program for the past three years.

NEAR FUTURE
Another innovation planned for the near future is selection of soloists from the winners of the annual Okanagan Valley music festival.

This year's soloists, mezzo-soprano Mrs. Helene Scott and contralto Mrs. Vera Christian are both festival winners. Mrs. Scott won the 1961 vocal championship and Mrs. Christian was winner of the Valley championship in 1957. Both are from Penticton.

This year's program, including well-known works of Haydn, Bach, Tchaikovsky, Gluck, Handel, Strauss, and Victor Herbert, will be performed in Vernon March 25.

Other dates include: Oliver, March 11; Kelowna, March 31; Penticton, April 1; and Kamloops, April 8.

Vernon musicians H. Henrickson, Elias Fisher, Steven Henrickson, Janet Henrickson, Jean Block, W. M. Phillips, Mrs. W. M. Phillips, are members of the Okanagan Valley Symphony Orchestra.

Louis Tries For Cleroux But Misses

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Joe Louis tried Tuesday to line up a fight with the Canadian heavyweight champion, for his debut as matchmaker of the new United World Enterprises, Incorporated, but nothing came of it.

The former heavyweight champion didn't have the right fighter or enough money to interest manager Al Bachman of Montreal in a Los Angeles fight for his Canadian titleholder.

Louis offered Cassius Clay, 1960 Olympic champion and now ninth ranking professional heavyweight, as an opponent for Cleroux. Cleroux ranks No. 7.

Althea Gibson Wants To Be The New Babe

NEW YORK (AP)—Althea Gibson, 34, former tennis queen, wants to become the "new Babe."

She aspires to be the best woman golfer in the world and match the feats of the late Babe Didrikson Zaharias.

"It's no secret the Babe always has been an inspiration to me," Miss Gibson said in an interview. "She was a great all-around athlete who took up golf late in her 30s and became the undisputed champion."

"I have a God-given talent for being able to do things with a ball. I have gone as far as I can in tennis. Now I intend to do the same thing in golf."

Those who have watched Althea's phenomenal progress on the links figure the five-foot-ten, 150-pound athlete will achieve her goal.

LOWERS HER SCORE
She took up golf seriously two years ago. She shot 101 on her first trip around an 18-hole course. She cut nine strokes off her score in 1960 and nine more last year, getting her average into the low 80s.

She recently won the United States north-south Negro tournament by 28 strokes.

Like the Babe, Althea is a long hitter. One of her drives recently measured 285 yards.

The daughter of a sharecropper, she learned to play tennis with wooden paddles on the crowded streets of New York's Harlem district. She won the Wimbledon and U.S. titles in 1957 and 1958.

Althea later appeared on television as a singer, recorded songs, got a role in the movies and wrote a book. She retired from tennis to become a community relations representative for a baking firm.

OFF TO PORTLAND

Goalie Gerry McNamara has been sent to Portland Buckaroos of the Western Hockey League by the Pittsburgh Hornets of the American Hockey League. McNamara, 27 years old, 6'1", 190 lbs. is an original graduate of Toronto St. Michael's. He played with Sudbury Wolves of the Eastern Professional Hockey League and also played five games with Toronto Maple Leafs last year.

Kamloops Smashes Trail For Lead In B.C. Series

KAMLOOPS (CP) — Kamloops Rockets, on the strength of a blistering second period offensive took the lead in a best-of-three series for the British Columbia Junior A Hockey championship here Tuesday night when they dumped the travel-weary Trail Junior Smoke Eaters 8-3 before a crowd of more than 1,900. Second game of the series will be played here Wednesday night with a third if necessary here Thursday. Winner of the series advances to the Memorial Cup quarter finals against the Alberta champion.

Two - goal performances by Glen "Cowboy" Richards, Bill

Bowles, Barry Hunt and Okanagan Mainline Junior Hockey League scoring champion Jackie James proved the margin of victory for Kamloops Tuesday. Morley Johnson, Mike Laughton and Fred Heslop counted the Trail markers.

WENT TO TOWN
Kamloops took an early 1-0 lead in the contest but Trail came back to tie the count 1-1 late in the first period. Then their roof fell in.

Rockets moved ahead 2-1 at the 7:35 mark of the second session and counted four more unanswered goals before the period ended.

Smoke Eaters made an attempt to get back in the game with two quick third - period goals but Kamloops turned on the pressure again and routed the scoring with goals at 8:17 and 13:55.

Smoke Eaters, who are the defending B.C. junior champions reached the provincial final by knocking off New Westminster Royals two straight in a similar best-of-three series. Rockets earned their spot in the final by eliminating Penticton's and Kelowna Buckaroos in the regular Okanagan Mainline Junior Hockey League playoffs.

Only eight penalties, "six to Trail, were called in the contest. Rockets outshot the Smoke Eaters 27-23.

BUCKS' THOMAS, KASABUCHI TO JOIN KAMLOOPS SQUAD

Kelowna Junior Buckaroo players Terry Kasabuchi and Fred Thomas have been asked to join the Kamloops Rockets, should the Rockets be victorious in their current playoff series against Trail.

Kamloops will be permitted to pick up six players to help reinforce the club in further playoff action.

Kamloops last night dumped the Kootenay representative 8-3 before a crowd of 1900 fans, to take a one game lead in the best three-out-of-five game series.

Thomas, a centreman, has been termed a standout on season play. Kasabuchi, a left winger, was brought up from the juvenile ranks later in the season.

Rangers' Chances Bright After Nipping Wings 5-4

AL Langlois, a six-foot, 198-pound defenceman, never had much luck scoring goals when he played with Montreal Canadiens.

But in 64 games with New York Rangers this season, he has counted seven goals and some of them have been timely.

His seventh clinaxed a three-goal comeback within two minutes and 18 seconds of the third period that brought Rangers an important 5-4 victory over Detroit Red Wings in Tuesday night's only scheduled National Hockey League game at Detroit.

The win brightened New York's chances of catching a Stanley Cup playoff berth for the first time since the 1957-58 season.

Rangers now hold a three-point lead over the Red Wings in the two teams' struggle for the fourth and last playoff spot. The Red Wings, however, have three games in hand, having nine more games to play before the 70-game schedule ends March 25 to New York's six.

ERASED LEAD
Langlois scored at 12:00 of the third period after Larry Chan's second goal of the season and Camille Henry's 21st had erased a 4-2 Detroit lead. For Langlois, who came to Rangers in a trade for John Hanna last summer, it was his second game-winning goal this season. On another occasion he scored a goal that earned Rangers a tie.

In 155 scheduled and playoff games with the Canadiens, he counted only twice.

Johnny Wilson and Andy Hebenton were New York's other goal-getters. Hebenton also drew two assists, including one on Langlois' tally.

Gordie Howe and Alex Delvecchio were the key men in Detroit's attack.

REMEMBER WHEN . . .

Canadians were startled when Russia defeated Canada 7-2 to win the world hockey championship eight years ago today at Stockholm. Canada's team, the Toronto East York Intermediates, entered the final with six wins and no losses, while the Moscow Dynamos had five wins and a tie. The victory in the final game therefore gave the Russians a one-point edge.

The Seals trail Los Angeles Blades by four points in the race for the Southern Division's third and final playoff position. About the only consolation the Seals have is a game in hand over Los Angeles. San Francisco has eight games to play in the regular 70-game schedule and the Blades have seven.

Penticton Dealers last night fought from a 17-point half-time deficit to thump Kelowna Royalites 69-58 and capture the Okanagan Senior "B" Basketball Championship.

The Dealers, who beat the Royalites last week in the second game of the best-of-three finals in Penticton, will now meet Quesnel for the Interior British Columbia crown.

Royalites last night were without the services of scoring threat Bill Martino out due to business commitments in Vancouver.

The loss of Mickey Martino who fouled out in the second half of the game proved also to be a big factor in the Royalites' loss. At this point the Dealers finally got their break and took great advantage of it.

ROYALITES PRESS
Royalites pressed the Dealers continually but the psychological effect of their player loss proved a dominating factor.

The Penticton crew, also without the services of big gun Chuck Preen, outscored the Orchard City gang 42-18 in the second half.

Royalites' defence seemed to break open as did the hard-pressing forward line when Martino left the floor on fouls.

Newcomer George Henley fouled out for the Dealers after turning in a stalwart performance in his first year with the senior club.

The Kelowna team was favored to capture the Okanagan crown for the second time in two years and also the B.C. championship.

Don Puddy led the Penticton attack with 16 points followed by George Henley and Albin Hocksteiner with 11 apiece and Ed Menu, Ray Jolin and Frank Carey with 10 each.

For Kelowna it was Pete Bulatovich with 18, Martino 14 and Bob Radies 10 points.

LINEUPS:
Penticton: Puddy 16, Robb 1, Menu 10, Reisig, Smith, Henley 11, Jolin 10, Carey 10, Hocksteiner 11. Total 69.

Kelowna: Martino 14, Radies 10, Burnell 8, Bulatovich 18, Dean 2, Tostenson 4, Inglesby 2, Schlosser, Kineschenko. Total 58.

Vernon Senior "A" High School boys defeated the Kelowna Teddy Bears 51-45 in a preliminary match. This was the last exhibition match for the Teddies before entering the coastal tournament this weekend.

Russians To Go After Puck Committee Today - Deprive World Winner

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (CP)—Russia must today to turn the 1962 world hockey championships into a competition where the winner would be deprived of world recognition because of a Communist boycott. A spokesman for the West predicted that such a move would fail.

Canada is a heavy favorite to retain the world title it won for the 19th time in 29 championships last year in Switzerland. The Russians announced they would bring up the question of world recognition at a meeting today of the directors of the International Ice Hockey Federation, called to deal with last-minute details of the 12-day tournament.

Vastly Napanikov, the Soviet member of the IIHF directorate, said he would table a motion to strip the tournament of its championship label.

Tom Lockhart, president of United States Hockey Association and a long-time member of the directorate, said "I'm sure we have the votes to beat the Russian move."

The preliminary phase of the tournament begins today in Broadmoor World Arena with the regular competition scheduled to start Thursday in two Colorado arenas 50 miles apart — Broadmoor and the Denver Coliseum.

Switzerland and Austria, consultation round competitors in the 1961 championships, meet in the only preliminary game of the tournament. The winner qualifies for the Group A championship round-robin, made up of eight countries.

Canada, Britain, the United States, Sweden, Finland, Norway and West Germany are the other countries in the championship bracket.

Five countries and the loser of the preliminary match meet in Group B, a consolation round-robin. The five are the Netherlands, France, Japan, Australia and Denmark.

This year's Canadian representatives are the 1961 Allan Cup champions, Galt Terriers. A power-packed club with such former pros as Tod Sloan and Joe McLeod. Galt boasts four smooth-functioning lines and a rugged defence.

US Goalies Weak Says Galt Coach

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — "The Americans are going to be plenty tough to beat in this tournament," Lloyd Roubell said today.

Roubell is the coach of Galt Terriers, who carry Canada's hopes of successfully defending its amateur hockey championship in the world tournament getting under way here.

"But the difference between our two teams may be the goaltending," Roubell added. "I've heard that the American goalies are not too good. If that's true, we could have a pretty sizable edge."

The Canadians' netminder is Harold (Boat) Hurley, an experienced international competitor. The American goalies are Mike Larson of the University of Minnesota and Jim Hogue, who played at Boston College last season. Neither has appeared in a world championship.

"Hurley is the backbone of our team," Roubell said. "He has played in three international championships. I'm sure he's the best amateur goalie in Canada. In fact, he could play for almost any team in the National Hockey League. The only reason he hasn't turned pro is that he has a good job as an accountant."

Seals' Hopes Turn Bad As Comets Bounce Back

San Francisco Seals' hopes of reaching the Western Hockey League playoffs went from good to bad in 12 minutes Wednesday night.

Things appeared good for the Seals when they held a 1-0 lead over Spokane Comets nearing the midway mark of the third period. But the Comets picked up three quick goals and won 3-2.

In a game that had little effect on Northern Division standings, Edmonton Flyers trounced Vancouver Canucks 9-4. The win moved first - place Edmonton eight points ahead of Seattle Totems. Vancouver remained in last place.

The Seals trail Los Angeles Blades by four points in the race for the Southern Division's third and final playoff position. About the only consolation the Seals have is a game in hand over Los Angeles. San Francisco has eight games to play in the regular 70-game schedule and the Blades have seven.

It'll Be Just Another Day For Most Durable Publisher

VALDOSTA, Ga. (AP)—It will be just another day for E. L. Turner. This means coming to the office, seeing that things are running without abnormal hinks, opening the mail, chewing tobacco, and reading newspapers—one in particular, his.

He won't like the fuss being made about his birthday, but he has learned over the years to put up with it.

Turner, publisher of the Valdosta Times, is 99 years old today. He notes with pride that he is the oldest active publisher of a daily newspaper in the United States.

He has been in the newspaper business all his life. "I could set type when I was 12 years old," he said Monday in a rare interview. "I was a pretty good typesetter, too."

His adeptness at setting type by hand got him a job with the Hawkinsville, Ga., Dispatch when he was 19 at $40 a month.

After seven years at Hawkinsville, Turner went to Thomasville for seven months, then took a job in 1889 with the South Georgia Times, published twice a week in Valdosta. He was still earning $40 a month.

He was named general manager of the Valdosta newspaper in 1898 and was named publisher about 40 years ago, although he doesn't remember exactly when.

When Turner moved to his new building in 1938, the tobacco chewing publisher had one major complaint. His spittoon got lost in the shuffle.

The editor went right out and bought him a bright new one.

Opening lead — six of hearts, used to advantage by either side. It has its base the custom of leading the fourth best card of a suit.

In this hand for example, when West leads the six of hearts—the fourth best of his long suit—it becomes possible for both East and South to apply the Rule of Eleven.

South subtracts six (the card led) from eleven. The answer five tells him there are five hearts higher than the six in the North, East and South hands.

Since South sees one of them in dummy and one in his hand he knows that East has three hearts higher than the six. The knowledge does not help South in this particular deal, but that is the method he uses to obtain it.

East applies the Rule of Eleven in the same way. He also subtracts six from eleven and learns that North, East and South have five cards higher than the six. Since he has three higher and dummy one higher, East knows that declarer has only one heart better than the six.

East can make good use of this information in choosing his line of defence. After East plays the jack of spades, which loses to the king, South leads a low club to the king and another club back. East has to discard on the second club and should play his queen of hearts!

When West takes his queen of clubs, he is then in position to cash his hearts and defeat the contract.

But suppose East is unfamiliar with the Rule of Eleven. Then he might discard when West leads the six of hearts, and lead a low club to the king and another club back. East has to discard on the second club and should play his queen of hearts!

West would be afraid that declarer had started with a K-Q-X of hearts and might lead a spade or diamond in response to East's discard of either of those suits. This would permit declarer to make the contract.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

FOR TOMORROW
Personal relationships are governed by splendid influences now. Stars stress caution, however, in business dealings—especially if signing papers or making important decisions. Some misleading situations may crop up.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY
If tomorrow is your birthday, your horoscope indicates that many pressures of the past—in both personal and business life—should be lifted and you may feel freer than you have in some time to expand your interests. Do so, since the planetary influences, not only in the immediate present but also for the next ten months, are highly generous and should encourage your loftiest aims.

The year should be a good one financially, but don't engage in extravagance—especially during October and November. Marriage-minded people will find June, September and October especially propitious months and both travel and social activities could prove highly stimulating during late May and June. October shows promise of fine development in career matters and December should be notable for excellent opportunities to further business or financial goals in 1963.

A child born on this day will be high-spirited, willful and endowed with leadership qualities.

Problem of Public Access To Private Roads Aired

VICTORIA (CP) — Three organizations suggested Tuesday there is need for some central authority to deal with matters of public access to recreation areas over private roads.

The suggestions came in briefs submitted to the legislative special committee studying public access problems.

The Victoria Fish and Game Protective Association suggested establishment of an access commission, with full power to determine access problems in the best interests of land use.

CLOSER LIAISON

The B.C. Federation of Fish and Game Clubs urged closer liaison among the departments of recreation and conservation, highways, mines and lands and forests, making the recreation and conservation department a key to co-ordination of use of access roads.

Dief Declines To Ask JFK For Review Of H-Test Plan

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker rejected today a CCF request that he appeal to President Kennedy to reconsider the United States decision to conduct nuclear tests in the atmosphere unless Russia agrees to a controlled test ban.

The request was made by H. W. Herridge, parliamentary leader of the CCF-New Democratic Party group, who said in the Commons that the U.S. decision was "fraught with peril for all mankind."

Mr. Herridge noted Soviet Premier Khrushchev's statement that an American test series would inevitably lead to a new round of tests by Russia, and Khrushchev's complaint that the U.S. feels it must always stay ahead of Russia in nuclear capability.

Mr. Diefenbaker replied that he had nothing to add to his weekend statement in which he said Canada still wants to see an end to all forms of nuclear testing, but recognized the "agonizing dilemma" posed for U.S. by Russia's test series last fall.

'Real Issue' Of Next Election To Be Real Canadianism

MANCHESTER (CP)—A British commentator says the real issue in the next Canadian election will be "what sort of Canadianism" can be achieved.

In the third article of a series, David Holden writes in The Guardian that the next Parliament probably will see the resolving of most fundamental decisions about Canada's future role in the world.

Then, he says, the mist around the Canadian image will begin to clear.

In his article, headed "Canadians in search of an identity," Holden says that to a British visitor Canada always seems a "pale, romantic ghost" of the United States, a "misty place of emigrating cousins gone to plant their seed and our flag among the dying relics of Indians and Eskimos."

Malaya Plans For Visit By RCN Cadets

KUALA LUMPUR (AP) — A "comprehensive" program has been arranged for the visit to Malaya of three Royal Canadian Navy ships March 12-13, it was announced today.

A Malayan government statement said the anti-submarine destroyer escorts HMCS Assiniboine, HMCS Margaree and HMCS Ottawa will anchor at Port Swettenham, 30 miles west of this capital. Each of the ships, based at Esquimalt, B.C., has a complement of 20 officers and 204 men.

The ships' softball team will play an exhibition game at Klang, five miles from Port Swettenham, March 12 and the officers will hold a shipboard reception the same night.

The deputy prime minister and defence minister, Abdul Razak, will hold a reception in honor of the officers March 13.

Two Federal Byelections May Be Held On Sept. 10

OTTAWA (CP) — Federal byelections in two ridings in Ontario and Quebec have been called for Sept. 10—though a general election call could wash them out.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker announced the date in the Commons Tuesday for voting in Waterloo South and Nicolet-Yamaska, both formerly held by Progressive Conservatives.

His choice of Sept. 10 caught a lot of Parliament Hill observers flat-footed. They had been speculating that Mr. Diefenbaker would set a June byelection date in these ridings to test the political climate in the two vital provinces with an eye to a general election in the fall.

The latest twist left some of them wondering if the prime minister may be eyeing Monday, Sept. 10 for the big vote.

The two byelections will be held only if the 24th Parliament is not dissolved before then. They would fill vacancies left by the death of William Anderson, member for Ontario's Waterloo South, in his Commons office last June 6 and the resignation of Mimes Minister Paul Comtois following his appointment as lieutenant-governor of Quebec Oct. 6.

The two ridings are mainly rural and agricultural. Nicolet-Yamaska is about 50 miles northeast of Montreal. Waterloo South lies just south of the industrial centre of Kitchener in southwestern Ontario.

The byelections would fill two of the three vacant seats in the Commons. The third is Mackenzie River which was held by Liberal Mervyn Hardie before his death last Oct. 18.

Mr. Diefenbaker told the Commons Tuesday that there will be no byelection in Mackenzie River until Parliament decides on a private member's bill now before it which would add 4,000 voters in Keewatin and Franklin districts to the sub-Arctic riding.

TRADITIONALLY TORY

Liberal party sources look upon the byelection contests as real tests of strength. Waterloo South is a traditionally Conservative seat, won only once since 1900 by a Liberal.

Nicolet-Yamaska has a predominantly Liberal record but was won in 1958 by Mr. Comtois with 11,880 votes to his Liberal opponent's 7,219.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker himself has the final decision on fixing the general election date, and has given no public indication of the timing he has in mind.

Speculation on an early general election was rampant last month when an immediate call could have brought a byelection. It now is believed Mr. Diefenbaker will not issue the call before late April since the Eastern weekend holiday would interrupt the normal seven-week campaign.

Present standing in the 65-seat House is Progressive Conservatives 283; Liberals 51; CCF-New Democratic Party 8; vacant 3.
